Surveys & Insights Conference 2021: Adapting to challenging times

Online platform opens 09:30 - 10:00
Double D
Alison Johns, CEO, Advance HE Keynote Presentation Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Student voice: A formative or summative measure of quality? 10:10-10:50 Dr Camillo Kandiko Howson, Imperial College London CAMDiscussion (15 mins) Comfort break 10:50-11:00 Comfort break
Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE 10:10 - 10:50 Student volice: A formative or summative measure of quality? Dr. Camille Kandiko Howson, Imperial College London O&A/Discussion (15 mins)
Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE 10:10 - 10:50
10:10-10:50 Student voice: A formative or summative measure of quality? 10:10-10:50 Dr Camille Kandiko Howson, Imperial College London 10:50-11:00 Comfort Dieak 10:50-11:00
Dr Camille Kardiko Howson, Imperial College London O&A/Discussion (15 mins)
10.50 - 11.00 Comfort break 10.50 - 11.00
Comfort break 10:50 - 11:00 Measuring the quality of learning and supporting students Chair: Jason Leman, Surveys Executive, Advance HE Understanding mental health and wellbeing among university students through students-staff collaborative research Dr Alina Apostu, Dr Marcus Jackson, Dr Jane Croin-Davis and Hamzah Niaz, St Georges' University of London Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Q&A/Discussion (5 mins)
Measuring the quality of learning and supporting students Chair: Jason Leman, Surveys Executive, Advance HE Understanding mental health and wellbeing among university students through student-staff collaborative research Dr Alina Apostu, Dr Marcus Jackson, Dr Jane Cronin-Davis and Hamzah Niaz, St Georges' University of London Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Staff perceptions of NSS benefits and challenges Dr Melita Panagiota Sidiropoulou and Dr Lucy Sharp, The University of Portsmouth Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (6 mins) Lunch Parallel Workshops Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curricultum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Chair: Jason Leman, Surveys Executive, Advance HE Understanding mental health and wellbeing among university students through student-staff collaborative research Dr Alina Apostu, Dr Marcus Jackson, Dr Jane Cronin-Davis and Harnzah Niaz, St Georges' University of London Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Staff perceptions of NSS benefits and challenges Dr Melita Panagiota Sidropoulou and Dr Lucy Sharp, The University of Portsmouth Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Lunch Parallel Workshops Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE How to be a survey whisperer: Using cognitive interviewing to co-design a Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Understanding mental health and wellbeing among university students through student-staff collaborative research Dr Alina Apostu, Dr Marous Jackson, Dr Jane Cronin-Davis and Hamzah Niaz, St Georges' University of London Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Lunch Parallel Workshops Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Newsreh Module Evaluation Research Victoria Salmon, University of the Arts, London Comfort break Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalle Holland and Dr Elena Zaltseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Dr Alina Apostu, Dr Marcus Jackson, Dr Jane Čronin-Davis and Hamzah Niaz, St Georges' University of London Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Lunch Parallel Workshops Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union 14:00-14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation seults to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
11:00 - 12:15 Staff perceptions of NSS benefits and challenges Dr Melita Panagiota Sidropoulou and Dr Lucy Sharp, The University of Portsmouth Q&Discussion (5 mins)
11:00 - 12:15 Staff perceptions of NSS benefits and challenges 11:00 - 12:15 Dr Melita Panagiotal Sidiropoulou and Dr Lucy Sharp, The University of Portsmouth Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) 12:15 - 13:00 Parallel Workshops Lunch Parallel Workshops Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Advance HE Advance HE Advance HE Secutive, Advance HE Listening to the student experience model of the student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Holden Parallel Workshops Listening to the student experience model of the student experience with the properties of the student experience of the student experience with the properties of the student experience gap. The BAME student experience gap
Dr Melita Panagiotal Sidiropoulou and Dr Lucy Sharp, The University of Portsmouth A&A/Discussion (5 mins) Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research A&A/Discussion (5 mins) 12:15-13:00 Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union 14:00-14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE How to be a survey whisperer: Using cognitive interviewing to co-design a Module Evaluation Questionnaire Allalm University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Listening to the student experience Victoria Salmon, University of the Arts, London 14:00-14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student experience gap. Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union 14:10-14:00 14:
Truly understand the meaning of quality learning Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research O&A/Discussion (5 mins) 12:15-13:00 Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalle Holland and Dr Elena Zaliseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Richard Bryan and Karen Muir, Qa Research Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) 12:15-13:00 Parallel Workshops Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union 14:00-14:15 The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the Curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) 12:15-13:00 12:15-13:00 12:15-13:00 12:15-13:00 12:15-13:00 13:00-14:00 Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield He
12:15 - 13:00 Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union 14:00 - 14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Listening to the student experience Victoria Salmon, University of the Arts, London 14:00 - 14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
12:15-13:00 Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE 13:00-14:00 Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Comfort break Hallam University Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Listening to the student experience Victoria Salmon, University of the Arts, London London
Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE 13:00 - 14:00 Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Cognitive interviewing to co-design a Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Chair: Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Cognitive interviewing to co-design a Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation Questionnaire Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE 13:00 - 14:00 Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union 14:00 - 14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap. Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Using Survey Superheroes to gather student opinions Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Amy Holden, Brighton Students' Union Alan Donnelly and Caroline Heaton, Sheffield Hallam University Comfort break The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Amy Holden, Brighton Students Union Hallam University Comfort break 14:00 - 14:15 The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
The BAME student experience gap Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Chair: Maddie Pitkin, Reserch & Insights Executive, Advance HE Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Using Module Evaluation results to explore the BAME student experience gap Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Dr Natalie Holland and Dr Elena Zaitseva, Liverpool John Moors University Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
14:15 - 15:30 The Culturally Sensitive Curricula Scales (CSCS): Measuring BAME vs White students' perspectives on the cultural sensitivity of the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
14:15 - 15:30 the curriculum Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Dave S.P. Thomas and Professor Kathleen M. Quinlan, University of Kent Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Q&A/Discussion (5 mins) Using ethnodramas to initiate and sustain dialogues about race and everyday racism in Bristol Dental and Medical School
Dr Patricia Neville, University of Bristol
Q&A/Discussion (5 mins)
Closing plenary and discussion Jonathan Neves, Head of Business Intelligence and Surveys, Advance HE 15:30 - 16:00