Introducing our strategy to 2024

We are proud to have a distinctive role helping higher education and research be the best it can be, founded on a deep-rooted partnership with the sector.

We share the values of the sector and understand its unique culture and how this varies within local contexts. Through our convening role and our track record supporting leadership and effective governance, tackling inequalities and in enhancing teaching and learning, our membership continues to grow as does our reach and impact. This is testament to how we use our in depth understanding of HE practice and research, as well as our network of global associates to work in partnership with people, providers and systems around the world to understand contexts and challenges, and provide solutions. Your needs are always at the heart of what we do.

We understand clearly from members and wider stakeholders that you want us to support you to be the best you can be in delivering for students and staff, contributing to sustainable institutions, systems and society.

As our members and partners reimagine their futures we will play our role in helping higher education shape its future. We will do this by helping members deliver successfully on their strategies. Many strategies are strongly aligned with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (especially those of quality education, gender equality and reduced inequalities, and of course education for sustainable development), and so they are integrated into our strategy as well.

We set out three strategic goals underpinned by six commitments to guide our work to 2024. It is not an exhaustive list of everything we do; it sets a direction of travel to ensure that we will deliver on the things we know matter most, in a way that ensures HE is as inclusive as possible.

We have also undertaken a Strategic Equalities Impact Assessment in line with our own guidance. As a member-led and not-for-profit organisation, we will remain committed to seeking feedback to ensure our membership model and services provide relevance, flexibility and value in an ever-changing world.

Thank you for your continued support of Advance HE and the dedication and expert contribution of our colleagues and our associates. It is our people and the people we help that really make us who we are.

Stephen Marston  Alison Johns
Chair of the Board  Chief Executive
Share • Connect • Collaborate

Our work spans nearly 100 countries

- 3,000 Governance Development Programme participants since 2015
- 10,433 people took part in member events/projects in 2020-21
- 60+ of the current UK Vice-Chancellors and Principals are Top Management Programme HE alumni
- 140,000+ teaching and learning Fellows in nearly 100 countries
- 380+ members across the world
- 979 National Teaching Fellowships awarded in the UK
- 1,040 Athena Swan awards across the world
- 1,000,000+ students surveyed over the last 10 years
- 20,000+ users on Advance HE Connect
- 7,000+ Aurorans are 2x more likely to get promoted
- 500,000 Knowledge Hub views per year

Our work encompasses and connects the areas of governance and leadership, teaching and learning, and equality, diversity and inclusion.

*Custodians of the Professional Standards Framework for Teaching and Supporting Learning in HE

*From April 2020 to April 2021.
The importance of higher education in supporting society to tackle the challenges of today and tomorrow remains vital.

We live in a complex world. Even before the pandemic, higher education and research were navigating seismic change in response to artificial intelligence, the 4th industrial revolution and fundamental shifts in geo-political events.

HE providers and research institutes – in the contexts of their education systems and governments – provide the leaders, the employees, the thinkers and the essential solutions to needs arising from socio-political change, technological disruption, economic recovery and growth in productivity. The pivot brought on by the pandemic has created scope for positive change to maximise the opportunities of hybrid pedagogy and flexible learning.

We also know there are a range of key issues yet to be fully addressed, including:

- feedback from our members around the world showed delivering blended, flexible, digitally-optimised learning and teaching, staff and student wellbeing, and fair outcomes as major ongoing concerns and leadership challenges
- insufficient progress is being made to tackle structural racism and systemic inequalities in HE, creating unacceptable challenges and outcomes for students and colleagues who work in the sector
- our governance insight shows that institutions need to focus more on strategic development, diversity, inclusion, culture and sustainable development to drive their success.
Our purpose
We help higher education be the best it can be.

Our vision
Higher education providers and systems that are inclusive, sustainable and high-performing in all they do.
Our strategic goals

In partnership with members and stakeholders, we work to:

- enhance confidence and trust in higher education
- address systemic inequalities for staff and students
- advance education to meet the evolving needs of students and society.

Helping HE shape its future

We are here to help you shape your future, supporting you to realise the strategic and cultural change you aspire to.

Six commitments will be used to guide our work to 2024, ensuring we deliver what matters most. We will continue to listen and adapt to the needs of the evolving environment.
Commitment 1

Enable strategic transformation

Delivering strategic change well has never been so important and perhaps so complex. Executive leadership teams, their governing bodies and organisations are seeking to learn from and build on their responses to the pandemic as they reimagine their futures. Whether the focus is on organisation-wide or national system level change, we will use our expertise to help higher education shape its future. Working in close partnership we will support institutions to set new strategic directions and create roadmaps to get there while embedding sustainable development within new ways of working.

We will:

+ support the development of new strategies, sustainable operating models and successful hybrid approaches to all aspects of higher education
+ deliver educational transformation helping institutions and governments review and develop strategy, policy and practice
+ facilitate cultural transformation and the creation of institutions in which people of all identities belong.

Commitment 2

Transform leadership for a new world

Changing geo-political forces; adapting to a post-Covid world; increasing competition and the need to build new relationships; all call for a different kind of leadership that builds and sustains inclusion. Confident, capable leaders adapt, grow and diversify their talents, their teams and their institutions to respond to future challenges. We will create pathways to leadership that build a more diverse pool of leaders and enhance the skills and cultural competence of existing and future leaders.

We will:

+ develop and strengthen individuals’ abilities to create the vision and deliver the strategies that will transform HE for the future
+ support leadership development at all levels that builds and sustains inclusion
+ build on and expand initiatives to diversify the leadership pool.
Commitment 3

Drive progress in equality, diversity and inclusion

Discrimination in society, institutions and organisations continues to exist. We see growing tensions arising from differing cultural, ethnic and other identities, both on campus and in wider society. With much to be done in universities, colleges and wider society, HE is well placed to offer insights and show leadership in creating the safe, inclusive and respectful environments needed to live, learn and work.

Equipping staff and other stakeholders to take an active role in driving change and sharing successes from a broad range of contexts, we will work to create a global centre for excellence in equality and inclusion in HE, accelerating the rate of change across the sector.

We will:

+ support institutions and individuals to better understand the nature of racism and how to become anti-racist
+ identify and scale up effective practices to advance equality and enhance dignity, respect and wellbeing for all
+ determine the potential to deliver an integrated equalities charter respecting the diversity of members and their contexts.

Commitment 4

Enhance teaching and learning for student and institutional success

Across the globe enhancements to the student learning experience have been both disrupted and accelerated by the pandemic. This pivot to hybrid and flexible learning, along with the growth in artificial intelligence and the information revolution continue to create unprecedented drivers for change. Drawing on our connections around the world we will support individuals, institutions and country systems to provide flexible, high quality, digitally-enabled student experiences that prepare learners for success as constructive contributors to the future world.

We will:

+ enable the creation of flexible teaching, learning and assessment strategies that optimise the use of emerging technologies
+ promote inclusive student success strategies that enhance the student experience and outcomes
+ facilitate the revision of the Professional Standards Framework for Teaching and Supporting Learning in HE.
Commitment 5

Reimagine professional development and recognition

The pace of change in HE has intensified the need for continuous professional learning that gives people the skills, expertise and recognition they need to succeed, whilst also supporting them to connect and collaborate with peers across the world. To respond to this, we will create a new home for digitally-recognised professional learning and development, supporting career development and institutional succession planning.

We will:

- extend professional recognition and Fellowship schemes for other aspects of HE practice, such as leadership and for EDI practitioners
- convene a global learning community to support the ongoing engagement and development of Fellows
- provide flexible, personalised professional development pathways that are digitally-recognised and portable.

Commitment 6

Evolve higher education governance

Good governance is critical to delivering impactful HE and confidence and trust for stakeholders. Yet we know that understanding what is effective in your context is needed more than ever to navigate turbulence and be fit for the future. We will build on our unparalleled track record of supporting and developing governors, governance professionals, institutions and systems of governance across the world.

We will:

- provide a foundation for a step change in board diversity and the inclusive culture needed to maximise its impact
- develop and support agile models of governance that meet the needs of higher education in the 21st Century, including realising the potential of approaches such as environmental, social and governance (ESG) principles
- use our connectivity around the world to convene and share insights and innovation for effective governance.
Our part in shaping a new future for HE

Higher education providers and systems that are inclusive, sustainable and high-performing in all they do.

Deliver of UN Sustainable Development Goals

- Enhanced leadership cultures, enabling success for all
- Effective and diverse governance
- Better equipped/skilled staff and teams
- Reduced awarding gaps
- Sustainable institutions and systems
- Continuous improving flexible, digital and blended teaching
- Dignity and respect for all
- Better student experience
- Equipped and diverse pipelines of talent for HE and beyond
- Improved staff and student wellbeing

Goal 4
Quality education

Goal 5
Gender equality

Goal 10
Reduced inequalities

Goal 13
Climate action

Goal 16
Peace, justice and strong institutions
How we work together

Building on our rich legacy, working in partnership and leading by example, we use these principles to guide all we do:

+ we place member needs at our core
+ we work with you to meet the needs of your particular context
+ we embed equality, diversity and inclusivity
+ we act with integrity and respect
+ we convene, connect and co-create with our community worldwide, to benefit all
+ using our expertise and our distributed network of associates around the world, we provide solutions and support that make a difference.