Advance HE Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Conference 2024: The future is now: Building EDI practice for the changing world of HE

6-7 March 2024

Posters
Day one – 6 March 2024

D1P1. Practice Tutors’ views on their readiness for supporting Pre-Registration Nursing students from The Open University who require reasonable adjustments for clinical placement, Dr Liz King, The Open University

D1P2. Removing barriers and creating supportive work opportunities for neurodivergent individuals, Helena French, University of Nottingham

D1P3. The RePAIR programme fellowships: Understanding and improving the experiences of healthcare students from minoritised groups to reduce student attrition and improve retention, Dr Roisin Bailey and Jenny Davies, NHS England

D1P4. A STEP forward: Systemic targeted educational progress in decolonising the curriculum, Dr Kerri Akiwowo, Loughborough University

D1P5. Does virtual reality simulation reduce imposter syndrome in widening participation students, Dr Sophie Housden, Norwich Medical School

D1P6. Tackling under-representation in STEM communication, Dr Wayne Mitchell, Imperial College London

D1P7. Using digital pedagogy to tackle imposter syndrome in first-generation students, Natalie Quinn Walker, Birmingham City University

D1P8. Developing a framework for assessing curriculum inclusivity with student partners from multiple departments, Katie Stripe, Imperial College London

D1P9. Listening to marginalised student voices to better understand inequitable outcomes, Rehana Awan, Open University

D1P13. Strategies for improving EDI in PhD recruitment: A case study from the ACCE doctoral training partnership, Dr Rachael McLaughlin, University of Liverpool

D1P15. Valuing marginalised voices: A co-creation approach to improving student experience, Dr Anthony Ogbuokiri and Dr Rebecca Gamble, Nottingham Trent University and Liz Hardie and Carol Edwards, The Open University

D1P23. Evolving evaluation: Using theory of change in the Iterative evaluation of the ASPIRE programme to address the black PhD leaky pipeline, Dr Florence Reedy, Advance HE D1P32. The EDI practitioner’s skillset to an inclusive classroom, Lour Nader, Canterbury Christ Church University

Day two – 7 March 2024

D2P1. Making diagrammatic spaces with wise women, Dr Joanna Leah, Leeds Beckett University

D2P2. Equalities and culture in corporate services: Designing and delivering an EDI survey for the University of Edinburgh’s corporate services group, Bethany Parsons, University of Edinburgh

D2P3. Transformative pedagogical initiatives: Enhancing social mobility of a diverse student body, Dr Karan Rana, Aston University

D2P4. Identifying barriers to education: A path towards inclusive practices in the UK, Iman Federico Awi, University of Leeds

D2P5. Inclusion, diversity, and practice: Preliminary results of a study into lecturer demographics in foundation year teaching, Rachel Dunn, Durham University and Marie Clifford, University of South Wales and Dr Christopher McMillan, University of Sheffield

D2P6. Engage, reflect, transform: The role of personal narratives in disrupting the educational power dynamics, Laurel Chaproniere, Nottingham Trent University and Star Wilkes, University of Wolverhampton

D2P7. Impact of EDI in transnational education (TNE) between UK and China, Dr Habiba Akter, Queen Mary University of London

D2P16. Capturing challenging educational experiences in privileged and marginalised undergraduate students in engineering, Dr Neha Chandarana, University Bristol

D2P21. ‘A place for us’: Exploring the lived experience of disability in law school, Dr Elisabeth Griffiths, Jean Moore, Dr Elaine Gregersen and Joss Barrowcliff, Northumbria University